Special fee reduction programme of RESRB & SSG conferences and JRESTBP journal

In order to facilitate access to international conferences and journals for participants from developing countries and/or temporarily with insufficient access to institutional funding RESRB & SSG conferences and JRESTBP journal offer a special fee reduction programme. Fee reduction is available when a participant/author contributes to the conference/journal development by means of (i) review of full manuscripts, (ii) submission of material for conference presentation/journal publication of exceptional professional quality, novelty or business development relevance (iii) enhancement of conference/journal activities.

Fee reduction details:

(i) review of full conference/journal manuscripts

The Reviewer receives 20 euros fee reduction per one evaluated manuscript. The Reviewer should use Review form and read Reviewer guidelines. You may register as a Reviewer via forms Registration and Sign up for news available at conference website.

(ii) submission of material for conference presentation/journal publication of exceptional professional quality, novelty or business development relevance

On submission of excellent abstract in the scope of the RESRB, SSG or JRESTBP the corresponding author may obtain fee reduction from 50 to 250 euros. In case you wish to submit exceptional material for presentation/publication and obtain fee reduction please contact wojciech1@budzianowski.eu or submit to the SSG conference your sustainable solution abstract - type B special for possible acceptance.

(iii) enhancement of conference/journal activities

In case you have experience in the organisation of conferences/journals we encourage you to suggest how our conference/journal activities can be enhanced by you. For example you may (1) distribute information about RESRB & SSG within your network of potential conference participants, (2) guest edit a special issue in a relevant journal capable of accepting conference full papers, (3) invite conference papers to a journal edited by you, (4) co-edit a book of selected conference papers, (5) contribute to RESRB/SSG/JRESTBP promotional activities (adverts etc.), (6) invite a new conference participant or sponsor (you obtain up to 50% commission), (7) become one of Editorial Assistants at JRESTBP, (8) co-edit a new journal under WBCS, (9) co-chair a new conference under WBCS, (10) publish an authored book under WBCS, (11) other meaningful enhancements of conference/journal activities. Send your enhancement proposal to wojciech1@budzianowski.eu. All contributions will be highly appreciated. A significant enhancement proposal will be rewarded by reducing the fee of minimum 250 euros.

All fee reductions are registered by organisers and converted to promotional codes. One promotional code is equivalent of 100 euros fee reduction. The promotional code is sent to the participant/author and can be subsequently used when the participant/author orders a RESRB & SSG conference participation, JRESTBP journal article publication or other related services. Conference participants can also use promotional codes to order air ticket, hotel room, etc. which will be purchased for them by the executive organiser. If preferred, promotional codes can be also converted to small gifts ordered from existing on-line shops by the executive organiser and shipped directly to a promotional code holder. In case of impactful long-term support promotional codes can be paid to the participant in cash (in this case cooperation will be based on a contract between the participant and the executive organiser).

In addition, all active supporters will be invited to join boards of the RESRB conference, SSG conference or JRESTBP journal.
